CANADIAN VALLEY CUTS PRICES ON BUSINESS DSL PLANS

CROWDER, OKLAHOMA—Canadian Valley Telephone has announced lower prices for its two most popular plans for business high-speed DSL Internet service. The new prices are $20 and $40 less a month, respectively, than Canadian Valley's previous plans. Current customers and new customers signing up for the plans will benefit from the new lower prices.

"It is our pleasure to help support the businesses here in Crowder," said Orlean Smith, CVTC president and general manager. "These lower rates are part of Canadian Valley Telephone's commitment to service and to its customers. We strive every day to provide top-notch service at the best possible prices, and this price drop is part of our commitment to our business customers."
